Mauro Awarded Fairhaven Volunteer Bursary

At her graduation ceremony from Holy Cross, Selina Mauro received a unexpected surprise when it was announced that she was the winner of the Fairhaven Volunteer Bursary. The $250 award and a certificate were presented to Mauro with her family present during the Home's Teen Volunteer Orientation on Monday, June 27th. Noting how much she had learned and enjoyed her volunteerism at Fairhaven, Mauro took the opportunity to encourage new recruits and announce that she would be back to help again this summer.

This bursary, supported by the Family and Resident Advisory Councils and Fairhaven Foundation, recognizes the contribution of local teens who have made significant contributions to the Home in a volunteer capacity as they proceed to higher education.
